two journalists provide a guide for navigating through the internet age's viral and opinion based news sources explaining how to discern what sources or facts are reliable and how to think like a journalist and unearth the truth in July 1997 twenty five of America's most influential journalists sat down to try and discover what had happened to their profession in the years between Watergate and Whitewater what they knew was that the public no longer trusted the press as it once had they were keenly aware of the pressures that advertisers and new technologies were putting on newsrooms around the country but more than anything they were aware that readers listeners and viewers the people who use the news were turning away from it in droves there were many reasons for the public's growing lack of trust on television there from sensation to sensation from fact to fantasy while deriding traditional journalism fact was blending with fiction news with entertainment journalism with rumor calling themselves the committee of concerned journalists the twenty five determined to find how the news had found itself in this state drawn from the committee s years of intensive modern misconceptions they also spell out how the news should be gathered written and reported even as they demonstrate why the first amendment is on the brink of becoming a commercial right rather than something any american citizen can enjoy the elements of
